If, following a Charging Period, the Company is unable to obtain all or part of the information necessary to prepare a Statement, in respect of that Charging Period, then the Company shall make such estimates as are necessary to prepare a Statement for the Charging Period and provide the Service Provider with the basis for such estimates.

1.2 Following confirmation by the Company of the actual DS3 System Services provided and calculation of the correct payments due, then the Statement for the subsequent Charging Period will be revised up or down accordingly.

1.3 Within ten (10) Business Days after the date on which the Company submits to the Service Provider a Statement, the Service Provider shall either:

(b) where the Service Provider disputes the Statement's accuracy, submit to the Company an Invoice for such sum as the Service Provider, acting in good faith, believes is due together with a written notice (the "Claim") specifying the sum disputed and the grounds of such dispute. For the avoidance of doubt, the Service Provider is only permitted to issue an Invoice for the aggregate amount specified in the Statement. This does not prejudice the Service Provider's claim for resettlement of disputed amounts. Any claim under this Section 1.3 shall be subject to the dispute resolution mechanism set out in Section 3 below.

1.4 The Service Provider shall be deemed to have agreed with the accuracy of the Statement if it fails to submit the Claim to the Company in accordance with Section 1.3.

1.5 Nothing in Sections 1.3 or 1.4 above shall prevent either Party from disputing information contained in or referred to in a Statement or an Invoice at any time where it is reasonable in all circumstances to do so, which includes in the case of fraud or manifest error. No dispute in respect of a Statement and/or invoice shall be raised after the first anniversary of the date of such Statement or Invoice.

2. Invoice Payment Date

2.1 Subject to Clause 5.2-3, within ten (10) Business Days after the Company's receipt of the Invoice, the Company shall pay to the Service Provider the sum due in respect of the Invoice by electronic transfer of funds to such bank account as may be specified in Schedule 9 or otherwise communicated in writing to the Company, quoting the invoice number against which payment is made.

2.2 Subject to Section 3, if any amount included in the Invoice remains unpaid after the time period stated in Section 2.1, then the Service Provider shall be entitled to charge interest on the amount unpaid, including interest on any Value Added Tax unpaid, in accordance with the European Communities (Late Payments in Commercial Transactions) Regulations 2012.

3. Billing and Payment Reconciliation and Dispute Resolution Mechanism

3.1 Where the Service Provider pursuant to Section 1.3 (b) disputes the Statement or the Invoice and submits a Claim to the Company:

- (a) the Parties shall use reasonable endeavours to resolve the dispute in good faith; or
- (b) where the dispute remains unresolved forty (40) Business Days after the Company's receipt of the Claim, either Party may refer the dispute for resolution by the Expert in accordance with the Dispute Resolution Procedure; and
- (c) ~~(e)~~ following resolution of the dispute, any amount agreed or determined to be payable shall be paid within ten (10) Business Days after such agreement or determination and interest shall accrue on such amounts plus Valued Added Tax (if any) from the date such amount was originally due until the date of payment in accordance with the European Communities (Late Payments in Commercial Transactions) Regulations 2012.

Schedule 9

Providing Unit and Operating Parameters

Part 1 – Providing Unit

Draft for Consultation Purposes Only

Part 2 - Operating Parameters

1. Reserve Characteristics

The Reserve Characteristic is a generic characteristic that is applied to POR, SOR, TOR1, TOR2, and FFR for the purpose of calculating payments and incorporating the Operating Parameters in this Schedule.

Parameters

The parameters used in this figure are:

- RMX = the maximum reserve from the Providing Unit_i;
- GMN = Providing Unit's minimum output for providing reserve- (can be zero or negative);
- GMX = Providing Unit's average declared MW availability ~~of the active fuel~~(or -1 * maximum Demand capability for an OFR response);
- R1 = reserve that can be provided when MW Output is equal to GMN_i;
- R0 = reserve that can be provided when MW Output is equal to GMX_i;

BETA, DELTA1, DELTA2, DELTA3, and R2 define curve break points, and will be negative for an OFR response.

1. Example of Reserve Characteristics and Providing Unit Availability adjustment

Note: The following is an example for illustration purposes only.

Reserve Characteristics are adjusted by the Availability of the Providing Unit in the following manner in order to determine reserve values for a given Output for different Availability values.

The example in Chart 1 above uses a 160 MW generating unit.

Line 1 (green) indicates the reserve available for a given Output when the machine has Availability of 160 MW.

Line 2 (red) indicates the reserve available for a given Output when the machine has Availability of 120 MW.

If the generating unit Availability is reduced the original curve moves to reflect the reduction in Availability on the X axis towards zero.

For an Output of 100 MW with Availability of 160 MW the reserve available is 32 MW.

For an Output of 100 MW with Availability of 120 MW the reserve available is 10 MW.

The example in chart 2 above uses a 160 MW generating unit.

Line 1 (green) indicates the reserve available for a given Output when the machine has Availability of 160 MW.

Line 2 (red) indicates the reserve available for a given Output when the machine has Availability of 70 MW.

For an Output of 50 MW with Availability of 160 MW the reserve available is 32 MW.

For an Output of 50 MW with Availability of 70 MW the reserve available is 10 MW.
